Contractor Loyalty Program

Terms & Conditions

Standard KE2 Therm Solutions Terms and Conditions apply to all products earned on the KE2 Therm Contractor Loyalty Program. KE2 Therm does not extend any warranty on Samsung, Apple or non KE2 Therm products redeemed on the program. These products should be returned directly to the appropriate manufacturer.

Participation in the KE2 Therm Contractor Loyalty program is voluntary, and does not imply any additional liability on behalf of KE2 Therm. Contractor information provided on the program will not be given or sold to any third parties.

KE2 Therm Contractor Loyalty members will earn points on the program based on submission of requested information as noted in Bulletin A.9.79A and A.9.79B. KE2 Therm reserves the right to clarify and validate any submissions with the origin of sale. Points will be accumulated per Bulletin A.9.79B. Qualifying levels for points earned by product category will be subject to periodic review.

Expiration of Points: Points will expire without notice 12 months after the Member's last activity on the Contractor Loyalty ID under which the Points were accumulated. If a Member closes his or her Account, or asks that we delete certain required Account information from our systems, that the Account and all Points in that Account will also be terminated without further notice.

Special Offers and/or Programs: KE2 Therm may periodically offer Members the opportunity to earn additional Points or other benefits through special offers and/or promotions.

KE2 Therm Contractor Loyalty Program is subject to periodic review and change.
